

C. Stewart Wright
Member, Board of Directors
Canadian Orthopaedic Foundation

---

C. Stewart Wright, MD, FRCSC

A third generation Toronto orthopaedic surgeon and grandson of the Founder of the Orthopaedic and Arthritic Hospital, Dr. Wright has a special interest in hand, wrist and elbow, and hip & knee replacement surgery. Dr. Wright obtained his Medical Degree from Memorial University in Newfoundland and did his orthopaedic training at the University of Toronto. He completed a Fellowship in Hand Surgery at the Raymond M. Curtis Hand Centre, affiliated with John Hopkins University in Baltimore, Maryland. Dr. Wright joined the staff of in 1982 and is presently an Assistant Professor at the University of Toronto.

Dr. Wright has served as Chair of the Canadian Orthopaedic Foundation's Medical & Scientific Review Committee since 2007 and was elected to the Foundation's Board of Directors in May of 2009.