

Erin L. Boynton
Member, Board of Directors
Canadian Orthopaedic Foundation

---

Erin Boynton is an orthopaedic surgeon specializing in sports injuries. She is currently a consultant to Seiden Health Management and Workable Centers.

Prior to joining Seiden, Dr. Boynton was on staff at Mount Sinai Hospital in Toronto and was also assistant professor in the Department of Surgery at the University of Toronto. She has been the principal author, senior investigator and collaborated on many peer reviewed publications.

Dr. Boynton has served as consulting or chief orthopaedic surgeon to the Toronto Blue Jays (baseball), Toronto Argos (football), Toronto Maple Leafs (hockey) and Toronto Marlies (hockey). She is a member of the Canadian Orthopaedic Research Society and served on the executive from 2002 – 2007.